Catarrh
Is an excessive secretion from the membrane, accompanied with chronic inflammation. Hood's Sarsaparilla acts on the mucous membrane through the blood, and radically cures all cases of catarrh. Take Hood's.

By Our Formula
We produce in Hood's Sarsaparilla a medicine that has an unap-proached record of cures of Scrofula, eczema, eruptions, catarrh, rheumatism, anemia, nervousness, that tired feeling, loss of appetite, etc.
The combination and proportions of the more than twenty different remedial agents contained in Hood's Sarsaparilla are known only to ourselves, so there can be no substitute.
This medicine makes healthy and strong the "Little Soldiers" in your blood—those corpuscles that fight the disease germs constantly attacking you.

Slavery in Cotton Mills.

Editor News:
I wish to write a little regarding slave labor. Gentlemen and ladies of Tennessee, I was born in Tennessee and my parents tried to raise me honest and right. My father was a poor man and he taught me all he could, and told me of many states and things, but I honestly do believe he never intended for me to know there was such a thing as a cotton mill or a state called Alabama. I do not work in a cotton mill, but, thank God, I am able to pray for them that do. Gentlemen, it is a shame and a disgrace the prices the poor people in the state of Alabama are now getting for their labor. They work from 6 to 6 for 99 cents. It is a wonder to me the good Lord don't call the poor people from the state of Alabama. I will eat wild herbs the rest of my days before I will toil for 99 cents a day. I am glad the Tennessee people have a free state to live in. My days are but few in Alabama, and full of trouble, and I hope there is not another big fool as I am in Tennessee. My God, stay out of Alabama. There are plenty of poor houses in Tennessee kept up by the counties and not by cotton mills.
I could write more but am too weak.
Wait till I eat my bread. R. D.
Alabama City, Ala.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CAT-TARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and is

A SPRAINED ANKLE.
As usually treated a sprained ankle will disable the injured person for a month or more, but by applying Cham-directions with each bottle faithfully, a cure may, in most cases, be effected in less than one week's time. This liniment is a most remarkable prepararheumatism, and you are certain to be delighted with the prompt relief which it affords. For sale by Whitwell Drug

Making Pea Hay.
Let the peas grow till the pods turn yellow, and then there is no hay more easy to cure well than cowpeas, notwithstanding all the talk about the difficulty in curing them.
They will cure if you just let them and do not go to monkeying with all sorts of contrivances to spoil them.

I had a letter to-day from a farmer who said that he would not have barn room for his pea crop and wanted to know if they would keep well when stacked. He really answered his own question, as he said that a neighbor had stacked some when well wilted and limp, and they heated and steamed. But to his surprise he found that they cured perfectly.
If he had opened the stacks and tried to cool them off, he would, doubtless, have had moldy hay.

Mow the peas in the morning, and if possible, put a tedder behind the mower to keep them tossed up and hasten the wilting. Rake the morning mowing into windrows that afternoon. Turn them that morning and let lie till afternoon while cutting more. Cock them that afternoon, and when the hay in the cocks can be taken and twisted hard and no sap runs to the twist, haul them in. If to go into stacks, make the stacks well, and rake down the sides, but cover the tops of the stacks with straw or dry hay. This hay will cure, even if the stacks heat. Put some rails under the stacks to keep the hay off the ground and prevent its absorbing moisture from the ground, and you have as good hay as in the barn.—Raleigh, N. C., Progressive Farmer.

A PATHWAY TO
BETTER CONDITIONS
TENNESSEE STATE FAIR A
MIGHTY MODERN EX-HIBITION
Of Volunteer State's Century of Progress, Where the Farmer Learns Modern Methods Which Mean
Money in His Pocket.
Tennessee against the world!
When you get together an exhibition which displays "Tennessee's resources in miniature," you have a sight that is worth seeing and an inspiration to go back home and take better advantage of the natural opportunities that the South affords.
This is just the purpose of the Tennessee State Fair—to make the people of the South realize that it's not so much the number of acres, but the PRODUCTION that counts.
The State is going to take over the management of the fair, beginning with January 1, 1910, and the association now in control is making preparations to make its final effort produce the very best State Fair that has ever been held south of Mason and Dixon's line—or anybody else's line, for that matter.
The premium appropriation of the fair itself exceeds $35,000, and this year there will be a great deal more money and trophies than usual offered by outside individuals and organizations. The premium list for the great annual show of the American Berkshire Congress, for instance, will amount to several hundred dollars, besides the handsome championship cups. This international show will be held in connection with the regular show of the State Fair's Swine Department, but it will be so big that several extra judges will be required.
It is a matter to be proud of that the present world champion Berkshires were bred in Tennessee and are still residents of the Volunteer State.
Tennessee's exposition has come into the front rank of the Big State fairs, and in actual MONEY VALUE to the people of the South it has made a great record since its organization in 1906. It has a membership in the American Association of Fairs and Expositions and is on the list of all exhibitors who pretend to make a showing for championship honors. The Tennessee State Fair is recognized by Northern breeders as THE fair for winning good will in the South; and it is the ONLY Southern fair visited by a great many of them—though most of the best strings are shown at Memphis, which immediately follows the Tennessee State Fair and precedes the Illinois State Fair.
So ably has the Tennessee Fair been managed that it has provided for attractions and has attracted exhibits equal to those assembled by any annual agricultural and industrial fair in the United States—though the majority of them are many years older.
No event of the kind ever held in the South has been so helpful and interesting to the farmer, the stockman, the fruit grower and the public in general as will be the Tennessee State Fair of 1909—September 20-25.
While the educational features, as a matter of fact, give the fair its one purpose in existing, still the management, realizing the importance of amusement in the week's programs, has appropriated over $10,000 for free attractions alone.
These will include the great Weber Band of Cincinnati (the same band that played last year), fireworks every night, Rube Shields, who makes the thousands laugh; six of the best outdoor shows that money can procure, and much more free fun.

FILLING UP MISTER
FARMER'S POCKETBOOK
Methods Learned at the State Fair Have Resulted in Large Increase of South's Assets.
On the serious side—on the farmers' side—on the dollars and cents side—what does the State Fair mean to the people of Tennessee?
What does it mean to YOU? What's the good of it? What's its purpose?
How are the farmer and the stock raiser going to CASH it,
"Production counts—not acres" is the decree of Modern Agriculture, and the Tennessee State Fair purposes to help teach the methods by which the agricultural worker can get the maximum service out of every acre of land he has under cultivation.
This applies not only to the products of the fields, but to the improvement of the live stock, and poultry and the teaching of modern methods of homemaking by the Woman's Department.
The mission of the State Fair is to help the people of Tennessee and of the South to greater happiness and greater prosperity and more of the comforts of home.
To do this the great annual show at Nashville is provided—this year during the week of September 20-25—and that the week may be a pleasure as well as a profit, the management is spending over $10,000 in free amusements alone. For this amount the Amusement Committee has been able to get the very best entertainment features available for any fair.
What the South most needs today is the increasing of the farmer's average annual income by about $500. This will be more quickly accomplished by the adoption of the principles taught at the State fairs than in any other way thus far devised, and already the exhibition at Nashville has brought an increase of hundreds of thousands of dollars to Southern agricultural pocketbooks.
